

November 27, 2023 | 17:30 – 19:00
D-001 Tiered & online

LECTURE

Hamas' 7 October attack, terrorism strategy and state-building

"One of the core elements of terrorism as a strategy is that terrorist groups usually see themselves as the weaker part in an asymmetric conflict, and therefore seek to provoke an overreaction from the state they attack."

PROF. NICK SITTER

Nick Sitter is Professor of Public Policy at CEU, Professor of Political Economy at BI Norwegian Business School, and a Research Associate at the LSE Centre for Analysis of Risk and Regulation.

FOLLOWED BY A WINE RECEPTION

