UniStem Day

Knowledge
and innovation:
the neverending
trip of stem cell
research

(If you surf the web with your eyes closed)

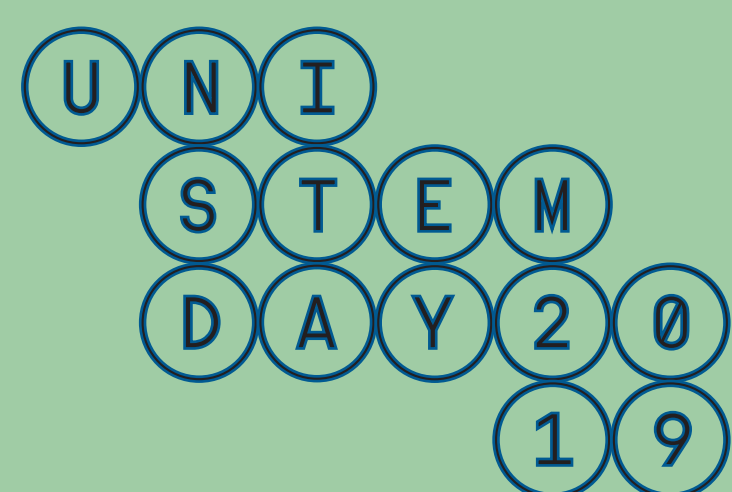

in collaboration with

Generations in the world united by science

The day aims to be an opportunity for learning, discovery and comparison on scientific research starting from stem cells. Experiences related to research, to be scientist day by day, and to the mechanisms of knowledge-building that contributes to technological progress will be debated.

The event will take place in 99 Universities and Research Institutes worldwide in Australia, Austria, Colombia, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Portugal, Singapore, Spain, Sweden, United Kingdom. 15 countries, 4 continents and 30,000 students: all together ready to join the infinite trip of scientific research!

THE EVENT WILL HAPPEN IN 15 COUNTRIES
