Undergraduate Conference in Moral and Political Philosophy

Department of Philosophy, Central European University
Budapest, Hungary
2-3 September, 2016

The Department of Philosophy at Central European University invites papers in analytic moral and political philosophy. We welcome topics ranging from meta-ethical inquiries about the fundamental nature of values and reasons, to particular issues in applied ethics and political philosophy. Although the field is broad, questions in one area of moral and political philosophy are not isolated from those in others, so conversations that bring together perspectives from different sub-fields in moral and political philosophy are also welcome.

KEYNOTES:

Prof. Emma Bullock, CEU: "The prospects and perils of justified paternalism"

Prof. Zoltán Miklósi, CEU: "Immigration and the system of nation states"

To apply: please send us an abstract of max. 500 words and a separate cover letter including the title of your paper, your name, the name of your university, current degree program, and the expected date of graduation. Please email your abstract and cover letter to PhilUndergradConf@ceu.edu. We particularly encourage submissions by philosophers from groups who are underrepresented in the discipline; please feel free to indicate in the cover letter whether you are a member of such a group.

Submission deadline: April 30, 2016 (12 a.m. CET). Notifications will be sent out by May 31, 2016. Full papers of 2000-3000 words will be requested by July 15, 2016.

Registration, refreshments and conference dinner are free of charge.
